[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 23.

EUROPE.

Berlin Dispatches.

BERLIN, March 22.—An official correspondent says: We shall certainly not interfere with Paris now, but know how to guard our interests and press the fulfilment of French engagements.

A statement comes from a reliable source that orders have been issued to stop the return home of French prisoners for the present.

Proceedings of the Insurgents.

PARIS, 22.—The official journal of the insurgents says the Central Republican Committee, unable to come to an understanding with the Mayors are compelled to proceed with the elections without their co-operation. The elections are postponed until to-morrow, when they will be held under the superintendence of an Electorate Commission appointed by the Central Committee.

The Commander in Chief of the National Guards appointed Raval Dabuison Chief General of Staff, Col. Valegranne commandant of the Hotel De Ville, and Col. Dabarble commandant of Tuilleries.

An editorial in the same paper proves that the Assembly now sitting at Versailles is legally incomplete on the ground that the election of some of its member were vitiated by foreign occupation and pressure. The Chamber is denounced as narrow-minded and exclusive.

A paragraph also appeared in the insurgent organ under title of an advertisement stigmatising the resolutions adopted at a meeting of editors of the Paris press, and published in several journals yesterday, as indirect provocation to disobedience of Government decrees, and an encroachment on the sovereignty of the people. Warning is given that while the Central Republican Committee intends to respect the liberty of the press it is determined to have the will of the people respected, and will permit no incitement to disobedience. A repetition of the offence will be severely punished.

The French Prisoners.

DRESDEN, March 22.—The French government has not yet appointed any Commissioners to receive returning prisoners from Germany.

Measures of the Thiers Government.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—President Thiers has sent another circular to the Prefects of Departments informing them that advices received by the Government from all the Provinces are reassuring.

Attempts to create disorders have everywhere failed. In Paris citizens are organizing for the suppression of sedition.

An army now numbering 47,000 protects the Government and the Assembly at Versailles, which is rapidly becoming master of events.

A proclamation is about to be issued warning the insurgents to lay down their arms.

Lyons, Marseilles and Bordeaux, where serious troubles were anticipated, remain tranquil.

Official representations that cannot be doubted, show that the Government is hourly growing stronger, backed by the Assembly, supported by the country, with a majority of the citizens of Paris really in its favor, and surrounded by a constantly increasing army. It is considered formidable and begins to inspire wholesome fear.

New Prefects have been appointed for eighteen Departments.

Status of the Pope.

ROME, March 22.—Clerical journals here report that communications have passed between the Cabinets of Vienna and Florence with reference to the status of the Pope.

Titles of Bismarck and Moltke.

BERLIN, March 22.—Bismarck has received the rank of Prince.

Moltke is invested with the Grand Cross of the Order of the Iron Cross.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—In the Senate, after further discussion, Sherman's amendment requiring Congress to sit to dispose of the Kuklux legislation, referred to the Judiciary Committee, was agreed to by a vote of 31 to 18.

Subscriptions to the new loan to day amount to $1,500,000.

The San Domingo Commission.

KEY WEST, March 22.—The Tennessee with the San Domingo Commissioners on board will leave for New York to-morrow morning. It is expected that a tug will meet the Tennessee off Charleston bar and take on board a portion of the commission and attaches, so that they may go to Washington with their report by rail. The Tennessee will be due off Charleston Saturday.

CURRENT NOTES.

Subscriptions to the new loan, March 15th, amounted to $1,000,000. Secretary Boutwell believes the whole $200,000,000 five per cent. will be placed within twenty weeks.

The Cincinnati Chronicle publishes a report that the Louisville Ledger is one of seven new papers which Tammany has made arrangements to start west of the mountains for use in the campaign of '72.

A young woman, not more than 20 years old, starved to death in Rochester, New York, on the 4th of March. She had striven silently to support herself after being deserted by a worthless husband, and was too proud to let her poverty be known.

The Democratic leaders in Washington and elsewhere deprecate the discussion of possible candidates for the Presidency in 1872, and are trying to allay the ill feeling engendered by the personal warfare between the friends of Hendricks and Pendleton in Indiana and Ohio.

The Tredegar Iron Works at Richmond, Va., now turn out five tons of iron to one before the war, and last year manufactured 17,000 tons of wrought and cast iron, and in addition to implements, bringing $2,000,000 to the city of Richmond. They work from 800 to 1,000 hands, and have capacity for from 1,500 to 2,000.

An Iowa boy of 12 years of age, becoming angry with the person with whom he boarded, poured kerosene oil over four horses owned by him and set them on fire. Three were burned to death before help could reach them, and the fourth was burned so badly that it had to be killed. But what shall be done with such a boy as that?

Mr. Sturges, the Mayor of Meridian (Miss.) who was run out by Ku Klux, publishes a card detailing the barbarities and murders of the Ku-Klux in the South. He closes thus: "Let me urge the necessity for having martial law proclaimed throughout every Southern State. The soldiery to be sent there should be quartered on the rebels. Leniency will not do; gratitude they have not; the reciprocation of favors they never dream of."

The London Saturday Review says: The whole history of diplomatic transactions between England and America consists of aggressions and threats on the part of the United States, too often provoked by excessive English pliability. If overbearing rudeness proves to be once more successful, it may be predicted that the next demand will extend to the annexation of the English dominions in North America.

According to the Vallejo (Cal.) Chronicle, 37 ships have loaded, this season, in whole or in part, with grain, from that port. The quantity shipped from there has aggregated 1,143,021 centals, valued at $2,271,310. The supply has now become about exhausted, and no further shipments will probably be made from there until the next crop comes in.

DARIEN CANAL.—Commodore Selfridge is quite sanguine that he has found a practical route for the canal. From Atrato to the Cacarica, where ships can go, the distance is less than fifty miles. The watershed is over 300 feet and its base, at a height of 170 feet not over a mile and a half wide. The rock is soft and easily worked.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Situation in Paris Unchanged.

PARIS, March 22.—Affairs continue quiet in Paris. Battalions of Nationales are encamped in the Place Vendome, to the foot of which traffic is allowed. There all carriages are stopped. Cannons threaten the Rue de la Paix, and the Rue de Castillione is isolated. Groups along the Boulevard Montmartre are discussing the condition of affairs, and the general opinion is that the new government is incapable of providing work for the people, and that the military and administrative functions of the government ought to be entrusted to energetic Republicans.

At 1 A. M. this morning great excitement was caused by a false alarm that the Prussians were coming to-day. The Nationals fired signals from rifles and cannon at Belleville and Montmartre.

The Journal Official published a proclamation in the name of the public and Guard National deprecating acts of violence.

Paris deputies publish a manifesto to electors. Following is a synopsis: On the 10th inst. the people of Paris insisted on the removal of the Assembly to Paris, as that city only possibly could be the Capital of France. It is necessary to avoid agitation while an invader is camped on the soil of France. Because of their presence, it is necessary for the Assembly to hasten the delivery of France and serve the Republic. The proclamation is well received.

Dispatches from Versailles.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—A circular from the Executive to Prefects of the Departments, states that order is being gradually re-established in Paris. A significant demonstration was made by well disposed citizens of Paris yesterday and had a beneficial effect. The Assembly has voted unanimously a dignified proclamation to the people. The bonds of the Assembly and Executive are drawn closer. The Mobiles have offered to assist the Government against anarchy. The circular closes by declaring that all good citizens may feel assured that Marshal Canrobert has made advances to President Thiers which are well received.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—All chiefs of the Imperial army are retiring from service. They have all returned from Germany.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Mr. Farnsworth, rising to a question of privilege, offered a preamble and resolution, setting forth that the Senate has adopted a resolution declaring that the Senate will consider no other legislative business but the deficiency appropriation bill, the concurrent resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the affairs of States lately in insurrection, a resolution instructing the Committee on Judiciary to report a bill that will enable the President and courts to execute the laws in said States, and the report which may be made by the Committee on Judiciary on the subject, thereby refusing to consider any business which may originate in the House; therefore be it

Resolved, That, the Senate concurring, when this House adjourns to morrow it will be until the first Monday in December next at 11 o'clock A. M.

Naturalization Treaty with England.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Senate, in executive session yesterday, confirmed the naturalization treaty made by Motley with the British Government. By this treaty Great Britain acknowledges the right of her subjects to renounce their allegiance and become citizens of the United States, and reciprocity provisions are made for conferring naturalization on Americans who may wish to become subjects of England.

CALIFORNIA.

The California Steam Navigation Company Sell Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—We are authorized to state positively that the California Steam Navigation Company has sold out its entire property of every description, boats, wharves, franchises, and contracts to the California Pacific or Vallejo railroad, and will divide proceeds and disincorporate. The California Pacific Railroad Company will put on night boats between San Francisco and Sacramento, withdraw the Marysville and Sacramento line, and make numerous other arrangements.

The work on the various branches of the California Pacific Railroad northwards and northwestwards will be pushed with renewed energy, the company being now in possession of abundant credit and funds.

General Order No. 5, Headquarters of the Department of California, reserves for military purposes the following points: Red Rock or Molate Island, the Marine Islands in the Bay of San Francisco, and the Two Brothers and Two Sisters in San Pablo Bay. Red Rock was claimed as private property by the late Selim B. Woodworth, and there is a valuable mine recently worked on the west side of it. The others are of no value.

The European and Oregon Land Company have elected the following trustees: Edward Henry Green and Alexander DeLaski of London, Rudolph Sulzbach and Julius L. May of Frankfort-on-Main, and F. D. Atherton, Wm. C. Ralston, Milton S. Latham, William T. Rolofson, Wm. Norris, Joseph S. Wilson and Albert Gansel of San Francisco.

OREGON.

The Germans of Jacksonville will hold a peace jubilee meeting on the 4th April.

Jacksonville papers report that mining in that vicinity has revived greatly since the recent copious rains.

An entertainment in behalf of the Orphans' Home at Salem is set for this (Friday) evening, at the Chemeketa hotel at that place.

Several people of Salem, including Warner Breyman and wife, E. M. Waite and wife, and Mrs. J. W. Smith, are going East on a visiting tour this spring.

Thirty-six indictments have been found at Salem during the present term of court. Most of them were in connection with the liquor traffic; selling liquor without license, selling it on Sunday, or selling it to minors.

A letter from D. Morse, Jr., Empire City, dated March 15th, says there were twenty-two vessels in Coos Bay, ten of which were loaded and the rest loading for San Francisco, with coal and lumber. This is the largest fleet ever in Coos Bay at one time......The steamer Hugo, a small boat running on the bay, was seized last week by the United States revenue officers for violation of passenger laws......A German, name not learned, who had just got over a spree, committed suicide by taking strychnine.

JIM BLUDSO ALL RIGHT.—Sometime ago we printed an affecting poem, by John Hay, concerning one Jim Bludso, who "went up in the Prairie Belle." An Arkansas river correspondent says that Jim din't go up at all, but sculled ashore on a plank and headed for his old woman, in Natchez-under-the-hill. The writer continues.

I hasten to inform you of a very important event. Jim Bludso, whose spirit, it is said, went up the night of the Prairie Belle, is alive and at present employed as engineer of the snag boat in this river. The Natchez wife is with him, and I learn the whole thing was a set-up job to get shut of the Pike county wife. When everybody on the Prairie Belle supposed Jim was holding her nozzle to the shore, he was quietly sliding out on a plank on the starboard side. In fact he was the first galoot ashore, making tracks for Natchez. If John Hay or any other man wants to take their chances at judgment with him, I am sure they will have no use for winter clothing after that date for which I hold myself personally responsible.

A religious journal thinks women physicians are pre-eminently needed at our female seminaries.

THE BIBLE AND GEOLOGY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: It is hardly a truism to repeat that, the Bible has stood every test of historical and scientific investigation in the past. Its chronicles and the records of Isaiah find witnesses in disentombed Nineveh. The prophecies of Daniel are traced in the history of the Kings of Macedonia, Egypt, Syria, Babylon and the Empire of Rome, and the Papal Dominion. The words of Jesus, "This is my body and this is my blood," are solved by the simple method of human speech, more humane. Inspiration comes to man in his own modes of thought and speech. The divine transfuses itself through the human, imperfect channel, not thereby imperfectly but truly; not carelessly and inexactly, but carefully with well guarded limits. The "sun-rising and sunsetting," spoken of in the Scriptures, are man's words, and true to his senses, as the statement of the revolving earth would never be. The divine herein accords with the common thought of the ignorant past, of the scientific present, and it will accord with it in the more enlightened future.

Even the equipoise of the earth in its daily and annual revolution, has a hint in the oldest inspired poetry Job 26:7: "He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing." So Milton: "And earth self-balanced on her centre hung." Modern physical geography accords with the phrases: "He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds;" "He hath compassed the waters with bounds until day and night come to an end;" "He hath divided the sea by his power;" "By his Spirit he hath garnished the heavens." But the same inspired record declared them to be only hints of greater facts; merely points in the outlines of physical creation. "Lo, these are parts of his ways; but how little a portion is heard of him? But the thunder of his power, who can understand?" This is fearless language uttered probably thirty-seven hundred years ago; yet it suits this age as well as that. The wonders of Divine Power, revealed by late discoveries in geography or astronomy, are not better expressed. The precious things of old, too, are so now; "The gold of Ophir, the precious onyx, the crystal, the coral, the pearl, the topaz of Ethiopia, all these shall not equal wisdom, neither shall it be valued with pure gold."

And having won its way, as God's Word, up to the era of geologic discovery, shall it lose prestige, or its words now fail to accord with truth? Or does it need defense at "long range," instead of a close "hand to hand" conflict, word with fact, and line with discovery? Has the Bible ever stood aloof in fear of overthrow? Has it not rather challenged close attention to its utterances, and the most rigid tests of its revelations?

Take the word day, so much questioned in geologic facts, and what does it mean in the Bible record of creation? In the first chapter of Genesis six successive days of creation are mentioned. In the second chapter, 4th verse, the whole six are included in the single term day: "These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens." Now what does the word day mean, thus used in the same record in two senses, the one including the other? Does it mean twenty-four hours? and do the twenty-four hours in the second include the six times twenty-four hours, mentioned in the first chapter? Or does it mean simply a period of shorter or longer duration? as in Numbers, xiv, 34, each day for a year? It is recorded that "Job's sons feasted every one his day;" "the hireling accomplishes his day; the Lord shall stand in the latter day upon the earth; the day of the Lord's vengeance;" "the day of slaughter," the "day of small things;" "who shall abide the day of His coming?" "the day cometh that shall burn as an oven." "Abraham rejoiced to see my day" "he hath appointd a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness;" "Now is the day of salvation." All these are familiar Scripture expressions in which the word day is understood to mean a period of more than twenty-four hours, and in some cases of many years.

What is the meaning of the word in the Hebrew? Prof. Taylor Lewis, an eminent Hebraist, remarks that "The six days are six periods," "indefinite, vast," that the original meaning of the word yom, translated day, means period of indefinite length.

Rev. J. O. Means, in his lucid article on the "Narrative of the creation in Genesis," B. C. Sac., January, 1855, remarks: "The term day is used in the Bible to express an indefinite period." "The cases in which the plural form is used for an indefinite period are very numerous. And so of the corresponding word in Greek, in the New Testament," as, "So also shall the Son of Man be in his day," "the day of judgment;" "the day of the Lord," &c., "all mean a special time—not a period of precisely twenty-four hours, duration." "The days of creation were days of the Lord; for there were no human beings to observe them." As the Apostle Peter says, "A thousand years are with the Lord as one day, and one day as a thousand years."

Prof. James D. Dana, L. L. D., remarks: "We have the authority of some learned Biblical scholars for concluding that the liberal rendering, required by science, is the only correct rendering of the original words of Moses."

If it is objected that science ought not to dictate exegesis or Revelation, it may be replied that every science may remind exegetes of the need of special care lest they put limits upon words, which Revelation did not design to put upon them. Besides, we may add that Origen, in the third century, Augustine, in the fourth, and some English theologians of the eighteenth, held that the word day in Genesis, 1st, meant "period of indefinite length." Its common use as such a period in other parts of the Scriptures, as we have seen, prepares the mind to understand its meaning here.

"Yet some still object that it is the time between the evening and the morning, and must mean the common day of twenty-four hours." But the first three days of creation, as given in Genesis, had no visible sun or moon; hence, as Mr. Means remarks, "evening and morning on the first day meant something else than sunset and sunrise. The words may have been used; they would naturally be used, to express the beginning and close of one period."

A careful inspection of the word day in the narrative in Genesis, shows that it was variously used by Moses for longer and shorter periods. I quote again from Mr. M., whose statements, any one with the narative before him can verify: "The word occurs fourteen times, of which five are repetitions, which leaves nine times separate use. In these nine passages, there are four distinct meanings given to it. In the first place, day is used to mean 'light.' God made light, divided it from the darkness, and 'called the light day.'" The primitive meaning of the word is thus not any period of time, much less a period of twenty-four hours, but simply light. The second use of the word is to designate a period of creation, the length of which was not indicated by sunset and sunrise. "The evening and the morning were the first day," v. 5; "the second day," v. 8, and "the third day," v. 13. During these three periods, designated as first, second and third days, there was no apparent sunset and sunrise. Either the sun was not created, or his rays were obscured by vapors, or some other cause prevented them from reaching the earth.

FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 24, 1871.

Routes to the Orient.

Vice President Colfax recently delivered a speech at New York on the Northern Pacific Railroad, in which he made the subjoined statements:

Of the auspicious influence of this enterprise, which but a few years ago would have been considered so daring, the most sanguine of its friends have scarcely yet a full realization. Even taking Chicago as a starting point, it will be (via St. Paul, where an arm of this railroad is reached) 200 miles less distance to Puget Sound than to San Francisco. Besides this, vessels from the Golden Gate to China sail on what is called the "grand circle," instead of in a straight line; and any one testing this by a string on a globe will be surprised at the result, if they have not previously studied the effect of the rotundity of the earth, and its diminished protuberance as you go northward toward the Pole. Hence, when they have sailed 800 miles from San Francisco, they are only 100 miles from the entrance to Puget Sound; and this striking fact shows the advantages this Sound will have in commanding the through traffic to Asia with our Atlantic States, or that portion of it which will pass over the soil of this nation on its road to Europe.

The San Francisco Bulletin takes the Vice President to task for these statements. It asserts that the reverse of them is true; that vessels from San Francisco never sail to the north in going to China and that nothing could be gained by doing so. It maintains, on the contrary, that "if ever a line of steamers is put on between Puget Sound and the Orient they will have to come down south of San Francisco before they cross the ocean."

Now we remember that some years ago our attention was first called particularly to this subject by a series of editorial articles in the San Francisco Bulletin, in which the views stated above in the speech by Mr. Colfax were elaborately urged. The general idea of these articles was precisely the same as that stated in the Vice President's speech. It was shown that the northern route was, after all, the shortest and speediest way to the Orient; that the shore of America from San Francisco northward trends rapidly toward the west, so that vessels for China, sailing from San Francisco up the coast thereby materially lessened the distance to their destination; that the distance from our Eastern States to [illegible] by way of the Northern Pacific railroad and the north Pacific ocean, would be shorter than by way of the central route across the American continent and across the ocean from San Francisco, for the reason that the parallels to the north were much shorter, and for the further reason that by keeping to the north vessels would avoid a great sargossa or sea of calms in the middle of the Pacific, where the progress of vessels was greatly impeded by sea weed, through which even steamers would often find it difficult to force their way. The object of these articles was to show that on the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad San Francisco would have somewhere on this northern coast a rival for the Oriental trade, and that it behooves those interested in her welfare to bestir themselves and establish that [illegible] and permanent foundations before the Northern Pacific should be completed. [illegible] the Vice-President may have read those articles in the Bulletin, and he may have been confirmed in his views on this subject by the suggestions and arguments therein presented.

All who have ever examined this subject agree on the general idea embodied in the Vice-President's statement. In 1867 General [illegible], chief Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, made a report to that company, urging the adoption of a line to connect the Union Pacific with Puget Sound, so as to enable that company to head off the Northern Pacific. We quote from his report:

This inland sea includes the whole body of water flowing in from the Pacific at the Straits of San Juan de Fuca and surpasses the Mediterranean in the safety of its navigation and the security and anchorage of its harbors. For all the China, Japan and India trade coming down the Pacific coast, it would save the water transportation for the entire length of coast line from the Straits of San Juan de Fuca to San Francisco, as all ships coming from China, India, etc., make our coast near the mouth of these Straits.

The statement made in the report of Gen. [illegible] and in the Vice-President's speech is a generally admitted fact, and the Bulletin has urged it as strongly as any one.

We have before us the prospectus of the Democratic Era, a weekly newspaper, to be published at East Portland by Messrs. Hicks & Raveley. The first number will appear about the 21st April. In describing what the new paper will be and do, the proprietors, we observe, make statements which indicate that their paper will be in many respects what the Herald is not; that it will avoid all warfare between the private animosities or personal interests of individual members of the party, and that it will not attempt to "incorporate local issues in the party creed." For the rest, the proprietors promise to publish a paper devoted to the development of Oregon, and to make a news journal which shall prove interest and value for the people of the State.

The [illegible] and engineer of the Lake [illegible] enterprise (an enterprise designed to bring pure water from that lake into [illegible], San Francisco and other [illegible], has written a letter in which he states that work will soon be commenced in earnest. The first work will be to run a tunnel through a spur or ridge of the Sierra Nevada mountains, which will take about three years. The main pipe leading to Oakland and San Francisco will be large enough to carry 40,000,000 gallons of water per day.

On the incorporation of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company some days ago, a telegram was sent to our Senators at Washington notifying them of the fact, and requesting that a bill might be presented in Congress to grant the enterprise suitable aid. A bill was accordingly drawn up and presented by Senator Corbett on the 17th inst. to authorize the usual grant of lands. Mr. Corbett is acting with promptness in this matter, and will doubtless exert himself to carry it through.

The Herald's vision is telescopic. Distant things only engage its attention. It is now employed in making ex-Congressman Johnson of California Governor of that State, and finds no time to refer to that little matter of five hundred dollars in connection with the canal and locks affair.

That Democrat of long standing and most devoted convictions, Sam Randall of Philadelphia, President of the Democratic Congressional Committee, was among those who voted the other day for the retention of the duty on coal. There's a free trade Democracy for you!

The Herald of yesterday has something about "standing true to the rights of the people against the encroachments of heavy moneyed corporations." Bah! when it takes only five hundred dollars of a corporation's money to overcome all this affected virtue!

Democratic Outcroppings.

A correspondent of the Jacksonville Sentinel writing from Washington says there are indications of a more wily and deceitful Democratic policy than heretofore. The writer puts it in this way:

A few days since a meeting of a few of the faithful was held in a Western city to consult on a plan to secure a Democratic triumph in 1872. Many schemes were proposed and canvassed by the assembled savans, but it was generally agreed that the only plan which promises success is that adopted in Tennessee, Virginia and Missouri; to discard for the time being, all ultra Democrats, such as Blair, Hoffman, Hendricks and others, whose daring has led to defeat time after time, and to take up instead, such men as General Hancock and B. Gratz Brown, and whip in all Democrats to vote for them, hoping that these men may draw off enough Republican strength to constitute with the Democracy a majority in the electoral college. There is no doubt about this plan being seriously canvassed. The Democracy are out and are likely to stay out, unless they can capture by strategy what they have failed to do by force. They point to the States of Missouri, Tennessee and Virginia, as so many tributes to their wisdom and say, "we told you so; men elected by Democrats must act with Democrats;" Senter did it, Walker did it, and now B. Gratz Brown is going through the same process. These schemers claim that their little game so successful in States can be made as successful over the United States. How the game will work remains to be seen. To be a success, three things are necessary. First, they rely on carrying with them certain Republican Senators, (say four) not one of whom has yet agreed to the plan. Second, a Democratic convention must be elected, composed of moderate Democrats, or a split is to be made in the Republican convention, and a man nominated upon whom the ultra Democracy will unite without calling a convention. Third, the old Copperheads of the North and rebels of the South, must keep out of the field as candidates for Gubernatorial and Congressional honors. A question presents itself in this connection of this kind: Can the Republicans of this country be fooled in a national canvass of this character with such examples of treachery before them as the States of Tennessee and Virginia?

More Compliments for the "Organ."

The Jacksonville Times of last Saturday pays its addresses to the Herald again in a very marked manner. After referring to the letters written by the proprietors of that paper last fall, instructing him how to proceed in various matters, the Times proceeds to comment on the Herald's mercenary course. It says:

The letters from both proprietors of the Herald amply prove that the senior partner is true to his Kansas Home Guard experiences; he had deliberately made up his mind to jayhawk the State out of its surplus cash, as the "pot lambs" of his old commander, Col. Jennison, were accustomed to "jayhawk" the citizens of Missouri out of their watches, spoons and jewelry. This letter [Patterson's], coupled with the conduct of the writer since, amply proves the extraordinary strength of settled habits—especially bad habits—and compels us to believe that "once a jayhawker, always a jayhawker." This letter also proves how the Herald clique, while bitterly denouncing the lobby of the Legislature, were actually lobbying bills through for their private advantage. It shows, also, that these men were willing to swap, trade and barter anything to secure their litigant bill, and proves generally that neither the Democratic nor any other party, in any State in the Union, ever selected a more corrupt brood of cormorants to office than the filthy birds who roost in the Herald office.

It also proves why the unscrupulous war on Senators Hendershott, Burch, Fay, Trevitt and Speaker Hayden was commenced, and why it has been kept up. The secret is summed up in the words "the war on me" (alluding to the report of the Senate Committee on Public Printing, which charged gross frauds on the Public Printer) "has affected the printing to the amount of $2,000." "I will give the signal when to fire." That's just what's the matter.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

On the night of the 15th the Oakland Hotel, two miles from Victoria, was destroyed by fire. The building took fire while a ball was in progress in it. Everybody escaped.

A company at Victoria advertise that they will place four of Thompson's patent road steamers on the route to Cariboo early in April. They get a subsidy from the colonial government.

The Colonist says that if Canada should reject the terms of union there would be a general expression of regret in British Columbia. But it thinks that the Parliament of the Dominion will decide in the affirmative, and that British Columbia will formally be admitted into the Dominion next Dominion day.

At Yale on the 14th inst. a man named Charles Evans shot himself at Barnard's express office. The report of a pistol was heard, and persons entering the room found him lying on his back, the blood gushing from his mouth. A pistol lying at his feet testified as to the cause of his death. On opening his head it was found he had placed the pistol to his mouth, the ball coming out at the back of his head. On the desk was found a note unaddressed stating the cause of the deed. The contents of the letter are not made public. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide while laboring under temporary insanity.

PERSONAL NOTES.

The Viceroy of Egypt is reported to owe $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 in our money on his own private account, and to be daily sinking deeper and deeper into debt.

A New York letter writer says that "with a fortune of $30,000,000, A. T. Stewart is still obliged to work." How many there are worth much less money who are subject to the same necessity.

It is stated that another marriage between royalty and English nobility has been arranged—namely, that of the Duke of Norfolk with the Princess Marguerite of Orleans, daughter of the Duke of Nemours.

George Wishop, who had been an employe of the Bank of England for more than 70 years, died in London on the 28th ult. He had succeeded his father, also an old servant of the aged Lady of Threadneedle street.

James E. Murdock has been lecturing on "Hamlet," with recitations from the tragedy, with great success, in Philadelphia. He declares it as his opinion that the Prince was never so sane as when he played the madman most.

Mr. Edward H. Fletcher, of No. 124 West Fifty fourth street, New York city, is compiling a genealogy of the Fletcher family—the descendants of Robert Fletcher, who came from England and settled in Concord, Massachusetts, in 1630.

Gov. Warmoath, of Louisiana, in vetoing an act which he declared not only to be unnecessary, but unwise, and ruinous and offensive to the commercial interests of New Orleans, apologised for the brevity of his message, and explained that some person "abstracted" the bill from his office and kept it so long that he had scarcely time to prevent its becoming a law by the expiration of the constitutional limit for its consideration by him.

☞ Catarrh is a common disease, so common that snuffing and "hawking" reach you at every turn. Your foot slips in its nasty discharge, in the omnibus or in church, and its stench disgusts at the lecture or the concert. The proprietor of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy offers $500 reward for a case of Catarrh he cannot cure. Sold by druggists or send sixty cents to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. ## LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

EUROPE.

No Change in the Affairs of Paris

LONDON, March 23.—The National Guards on Tuesday reinstated the Mayor of the sixth arrondissement, who had been expelled from office by the insurgents. The insurgents' Central Committee have decided to disarm the Nationals of Quartier St. Germain. During the night the insurgent Nationals endeavored to suppress the eleventh battalion, occupying Place de la Bourse, but were unsuccessful, many battalions of the National Guard being armed for the preservation of order. An armed manifestation is advertised for Wednesday afternoon. It is announced that the Nationals of Lyons only await the arrival of a delegation from Paris to form a Central Committee on the plan of that at present operating in Paris. It is reported that Menotti Garibaldi now commands the Montmartre insurgents.

Collision Between Insurgents and People.

PARIS, March 22—Evening.—This forenoon number of unarmed persons reached the Rue de la Paix, at the entrance to the Place Vendome, and appealed to the sentries to give way to their passage into the districts occupied by the insurgents and National Guards. The request was refused by the sentries. The demonstrators there upon unfurled the colors of the Nationals, but the sentries threatened to bayonet the color bearer, and the crowd at once commenced to retire. Baron Nathan then seized the flag and exhorted the crowd to advance against the illegal force occupying the place. The order was obeyed, when the Nationals occupying the place beat their drums and fired in the air. The crowd retreating too slowly, three ranks of the Nationals filed out from the main body and fired. The crowd broke, terror stricken, and retreated. At least 30 persons were killed and wounded. Baron Nathan received two shots in the chest.

The Nationals in the Place Vendome have since been reinforced.

Orderly National Guards have generally been called to arms, and fighting is apprehended tonight. The affair has created great consternation among the people of Paris.

Germans to Occupy Paris.

Paris journals say Bismarck has informed Thiers that the Germans will occupy Paris on Sunday unless by that time Thiers is master of the situation.

Bismarck Threatens to Open Fire on Paris for Violation of Treaty.

VERSAILLES, March 23.—In the National Assembly to day an adverse report was made from the committee on the bill providing for the election of a municipality in Paris

Jules Favre received a letter from Bismarck, who says events in Paris do not indicate the execution of the convention entered into with the German commander, which forbids any approach to the lines before forts which are occupied by Germans.

Bismarck claims the restoration within twenty-four hours of the telegraph leading to Pantin, which has been destroyed, or Paris will be treated as an enemy, and should there be any more proceedings in violation of the preliminaries of peace the fire of the forts will be opened on the city.

Favre stated to the Assembly that he had replied to Bismarck that the insurrection in Paris was a surprise to the Government, but that it would be repressed. If there was delay in its suppression, it was because the Government was still hopeful of avoiding bloodshed. The Government had no means of replacing the telegraph, but would ask the reinstatement of the Mayors of arrondissements throughout which it passed.

VERSAILLES, March 22.—Several Paris newspapers have removed to Versailles. The Paris insurgents have obtained from the Bank of France a million francs against the deposit of a formal Treasury bond. A requisition was made by them on the Rothschilds and was refused payment.

LONDON, March 23.—The daily News' special says the letter of Bismarck created a sensation in the Assembly, and Favre in his remarks thereon hinted that if Paris holds out, the Government will co operate with the Germans. It is reported Favre is endeavoring to oust Thiers from the office of Chief Executive.

Gens. Lecompte and Thomas were buried in a ditch.

Rue de la Paix is a pool of blood, and no one's life is safe in Paris.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Message from the President on Affairs at the South.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The President sent the following message to Congress this afternoon: Senate and House of Representatives: A condition of affairs now exist in some of the States of the Union rendering life and property insecure, and the carrying of mails and collection of revenue dangerous. Proof that such a state of affairs exists in some localities is now before the Senate. That power to correct these evils is beyond the control of the State authorities, I do not doubt. That the power of the Executive of the United States, acting within the limits of existing laws, is sufficient for the present emergency is not clear, therefore I urgently recommend such legislation as in the judgment of Congress shall effectually secure life, liberty and property in all parts of the United States. It may be expedient to provide that such laws as shall be passed in pursuance of the recommendation, shall expire at the end of the next session of Congress. There is no other subject on which I would recommend legislation during the present session.

U. S. GRANT.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—The rain, which has been falling at intervals since ten o'clock last night, cleared up at sunset. The rain fall was sufficiently large to greatly benefit crops in the vicinity of the Bay.

The trial of Dennis Gunn for the murder of Edward J. Murphy, on Pine street, Dec. 31st, is proceeding in the Fourth District Court. The testimony for the prosecution is all in. The defense is that Gunn had just discovered that Murphy had seduced his sister, and shot him while under such state of excitement as rendered him not morally responsible.

Paul Viontain sues Antonio Utzovitch for half the fifteen thousand dollar prize in the Grass Valley Lottery, drawn by ticket 9,178. He claims that they were partners in buying tickets in all the lotteries and gift enterprises in California, investing fifty dollars a month between them, but Utzovitch got hold of the money in this case and refused to come to a divide.

The stock market continues greatly excited.

John White, one of the early editors in this State, once Clerk of the State Senate, and late Secretary of the California Labor Exchange, died of consumption on February 22d at Nursery Villa, in England, the place of his birth. He had been compelled to resign his Secretaryship some months since. He was forty-six years of age.

The will of Horace Hawes, admitted to probate this afternoon, leaves his widow $2,500 per year; to his son, $300 per month for life, his homestead in San Mateo county, valued at $25,000, and $33,000 in the bank, and his library, worth $2,000; to his daughter $100 per month until of legal age, and $200 per month thereafter. The entire estate, including what is deeded as a foundation for the Mount Eagle University, is valued under $1,000,000.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

HEALDSBURG, March 23.—It commenced raining last evening at 6 o'clock and rained, with slight intermission, all night and all day to day. Indications of more to night.

PETALUMA, March 23.—It has rained here with little intermission since 9 o'clock last night, a good portion of the time quite heavily. The prospects for good crops in this county never looked better than at present.

GRASS VALLEY, March 23.—Henry Osborne was arrested last night, charged with a robbery committed at Austin. Osborne was put in our town jail at half past ten o'clock this morning, and at two o'clock he was out. He dug through the wall with a horn comb. The jail which was broken has just been finished, and is built of sand and brick.

SONORA, March 23.—Last evening the Germans of Tuolumne had a grand peace jubilee in Sonora. The torchlight procession formed and marched through the principal streets, after which they repaired to the Turn Verein hall, where addresses were delivered, after which a grand display of fireworks, surpassing anything of the kind ever seen here. During the evening the principal buildings were illuminated. The whole affair concluded with a ball for the benefit of the German Sanitary fund.

We say it now as we've said it before,
That C M. MARTIN'S GROCERY STORE
Is where you can make the best pickings
Of all sorts of game, and of chickens,
Of fresh butter and bouncing big eggs,
And fish of all sorts, dried or in kegs;
Of the best kind of bacon and hams,
And of pickles and jellies and jams;
Vegetables and fruits of the season,
And everything good that in reason
You can ask or wish to make a good dish.

Cheap Water Pipe.

"THE ASPHALTUM PRESSURE PIPE COMPANY," of San Francisco, having purchased of the patentees the sole right to manufacture on this coast, are now making an article at their works, at Alameda Point, that will supply the general want of a cheap and durable water pipe. The invention originated in France, where these pipes are extensively used, as well as in Germany; in fact, all over Europe, almost entirely superseding for all ordinary purposes the use of iron. It is no new thing, having been in use twenty years

Its Durability.

Being imperishable and insensible to atmospheric influences or chemical properties of the earth, it never changes, and is consequently much more durable than iron, which corrodes, and in time leaks.

It is a Non-Conductor,

And will not freeze except at a remarkably low temperature, and even then its expansive power is greater than that of frozen water. In warm weather it acts as a cooler for water passing through it.

Neutrality to Acids and Alkalis.

This pipe is not affected by acids and alkalis, nor is it affected by galvanic currents—consequently is invaluable in conducting telegraph wires under ground through tunnels and under bridges.

Elasticity.

The elasticity of this pipe prevents its bursting from outward shocks or concussions. The interior of the pipes being glazed, are as smooth as porcelain, and consequently are never clogged by adhering sediment.

Lightness.

The mean weight of these pipes to iron is as one to five, which not only facilitates handling, but reduces the cost of transportation.

Laying the Pipe

Is a simple matter—can be laid by any laboring man of ordinary intelligence, but the Company, if required, will always furnish a competent person, free of expense, to oversee the proper laying of the pipe. Contracts taken for any required length of pipe from water or mining companies, and warranted to stand according to contract.

Pipe Under Pressure

Can be seen at the office of the Company. We are the only parties manufacturing this pipe on the Pacific Coast under this patent. All other offered is spurious and an infringement.

Cheapness.

The cost when laid, including connections, is about one-quarter that of lead and one-half that of iron

We manufacture this pipe in lengths of twelve feet, and ship it everywhere, by all sorts of conveyances—no special care being required. We manufacture it of any size from one to twelve inches.

Pressure.

We manufacture according to the pressure required from 1 to 600 pounds to the inch, and guarantee it to stand the pressure.

Prices.

|---|---|---|
| 1 inch, 10 cents per foot | | For pipe capable of resisting a pressure of 150 lbs to the square inch |
| 2 inch, 20 " " | | |
| 3 inch, 30 " " | | |
| 4 inch, 40 " " | | |
| 5 inch, 50 " " | | |
| 6 inch, 60 " " | | |
| 8 inch, $1 00 " " | | |
| 10 inch, $1 25 " " | | |
| 12 inch, $1 50 " " | | |

This pipe being made of a combination of paper, canvas, and asphaltum, in lengths of twelve feet, should not be confounded with moulded asphaltum pipe in lengths of four feet.

CITY.

SUPPOSED CASE OF POISONING.—We are informed of another Indian tragedy [illegible]. On last Monday night a party of [illegible] camped near that place, were thrown into [illegible] excitement by the sudden death of an Indian woman belonging to the party. On Tuesday morning the citizens of the town were informed of the [illegible], and an officer went to the camp to learn, if possible, the cause of the trouble. The squaw was found dead and the Indians charged certain white men with administering [illegible] whisky [illegible] not only to her, but to others of the party. A Coroner's jury was called and an examination made by Dr. Littlefield, of the contents of the stomach of the deceased. The doctor gave it as his opinion that "doped whisky" had been administered in large quantities, and the jury returned their verdict in accordance with the physician's opinion. From Indian evidence elicited during the inquest, it was learned that during Monday night preceding the death of the squaw two white men had visited the camp [illegible] whisky with them, about a quart of which [illegible] drank. One Indian testified that he took one drink out of the bottle, and that it made him so crazy that he burned his shirt, and [illegible] in slang parlance, as if to impress the jury [illegible] truth of his statements, "how's that for [illegible]" The parties charged with the commission of the crime are named respectively Smith and [illegible]son. Both were under arrest at the date of [illegible] information, awaiting the result of a preliminary examination before a Justice of the Peace

A THIRSTY SOUL.—A bummer with a thirsty soul applied yesterday afternoon to a [illegible] merchant at his front door with the inquiry [illegible] "any money?" The merchant, thinking to get rid of him, replied, "No, it's the young [illegible] the office who has all the money." [illegible] the office walked the bummer of the thirsty soul and confronting "the young man in the office," [illegible] he queried, "Got any money?" The "young [illegible] in the office" looked at him, and thinking he saw speculation in the eyes that the bummer [illegible] [illegible] with, he concluded the best thing he could do would be to give him a half dollar to [illegible] the perturbed spirit with which he [illegible] [illegible] confronted. Bummer took the [illegible] without a tear or a sigh, and walked away [illegible] majestic and measured tread. The "young man in the office," and the merchant standing [illegible] the front door, had the satisfaction of seeing [illegible] bummer of the thirsty soul march up [illegible] 320 feet and go into a saloon, where the [illegible] lar went to pay for whisky straight [illegible] whisky straight went down the [illegible] of the bummer of the thirsty soul. The [illegible] in the office" thinks he made a bad [illegible] of a fifty cent piece.

THE "DEMOCRATIC ERA."—Messrs. [illegible] Hicks & S. W. Raveley have just issued a prospectus for the Democratic Era, a weekly newspaper to be published at East Portland, commencing on or about the [illegible] of April. The prospectus informs us that the Era [illegible] be devoted to the discussion of political questions, the promotion of sound and correct [illegible] growth and prosperity of the whole [illegible] the local interests of East Portland [illegible] poses further to promote "the universal harmony and party unity throughout the State." IMMIGRANTS.—Among the [illegible] last steamer were [illegible] who have brought [illegible] take them up [illegible] [illegible] representatives [illegible] has been making [illegible] health, and while there [illegible] making the people acquainted [illegible]

USHERS AT PLACES OF AMUSEMENT.—[illegible] OREGONIAN: I have frequently [illegible] standing the places of amusement [illegible] that there were no persons to show [illegible] their escorts to seats [illegible] [illegible] These are two things that should [illegible] attended by those managing performances [illegible] our public halls, and I hope to see [illegible] rected. The ladies, I am sure, will thank [illegible] who take the matter in hand.

AURORA BOREALIS.—A very beautiful [illegible] was observed about 4 o'clock yesterday [illegible] in the north. The spectators who were [illegible] that hour were rewarded for their early [illegible] late going to bed, as the case may be, by [illegible] an extraordinarily large and brilliant [illegible] shoot across the heavens from north to [illegible]. According to the descriptions we get of it [illegible] a tail much longer than the historic appendage of "our cat."

BUREAU OF MINING LANDS.—Messrs. A. J. Dennison, — McCoy, Geo. L. Curry, [illegible] and others have formed an incorporation for the purpose of developing and locating mineral lands in this State. They propose to send parties of prospectors into the field as early as the season will permit, and to publish reports from time to time of the results of their operations

ENGINES FOR KALAMA.—The steamer Idaho brought up four donkey engines and landed them at Kalama, to be used for pile-driving on the North Pacific Railroad. We see that one of the [illegible] river papers mentions the arrival at Kalama of four "locomotive engines"—a slight error. The Idaho landed at Kalama a total of [illegible] tons of freight.

SCOTTISH RITES MASONRY.—Quite a number of the Masons of Salem have, within the last day or two, taken the thirty-third degree in Masonry in this city, and they intend to organize a Lodge of that degree at Salem. They will be here again in a month for the purpose of having their officers installed.

ABOUT SCHOOL MEETINGS.—In view of the fact that our annual school meetings are near at hand we commend the communication from the Superintendent, which appears elsewhere to a careful perusal. It contains several suggestions which may well be taken into serious consideration

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Mr A. D. Shelby says he came here to stay, and that he is bound to fight it out on this line, notwithstanding the [illegible] of the city by "dollar stores." We guess he means it, too. Look at his advertisement of articles for sale at "99 cents."

ERROR AND CORRECTION.—In an item of yesterday morning, the Real Estate Gazette, published by Russell, Ferry & Woodward, was attributed, by an inadvertence, to "Russell & [illegible]." This was a rather singular mixing of firms, for which we tender our apology

PERSONAL.—We see by one of the California papers that Mr. H. Bloomfield, at one time Superintendent of the Oregon Iron Works in this city, is at Woodland, on the Sacramento, [illegible] putting up gas works.

HELD TO ANSWER FOR ARSON.—A colored female, the wife of I. Graham, lately married, was held to answer in the Police Court, on Wednesday, upon the charge of attempting to commit arson.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES.—There are again two trains a day on the Oregon & California Railroad from Portland to Albany, and two steamers a day between Portland and Oregon City.

GOING EAST.—Col. W. W. Chapman will start East by the steamer to morrow. He will return in May, in time to meet his engagements [illegible] courts here

CITY.

SUPPOSED CASE OF POISONING.—We are informed of another Indian tragedy at Lafayette. On last Monday night a party of Indians encamped near that place, were thrown into an excitement by the sudden death of an Indian woman belonging to the party. On Tuesday morning the citizens of the town were informed of the matter, and an officer went to the camp to learn, if possible, the cause of the trouble. The squaw was found dead and the Indians charged certain white men with administering poisoned whisky, not only to her, but to others of the party. A coroner's jury was called and an examination made by Dr. Littlefield, of the contents of the stomach of the deceased. The doctor gave it as his opinion that "doped whisky" had been administered in large quantities, and the jury rendered their verdict in accordance with the physician's opinion. From Indian evidence, elicited during the inquest, it was learned that during Monday night preceding the death of the squaw, two white men had visited the camp, having whisky with them, about a quart of which she drank. One Indian testified that he took one drink out of the bottle, and that it made him so crazy that he burned his shirt, and he added in slang parlance, as if to impress the jury with the result of his statements, "how's that for high?" The parties charged with the commission of the crime are named respectively Smith and Johnson. Both were under arrest at the date of our [illegible], awaiting the result of a preliminary examination before a Justice of the Peace.

A THIRSTY SOUL.—A bummer with a thirsty soul applied yesterday afternoon to an up town merchant at his front door with the inquiry, "Got any money?" The merchant, thinking to get rid of him, replied, "No; it's the young man in the office who has all the money." Back to the office walked the bummer of the thirsty soul, and addressing "the young man in the office," again he queried, "Got any money?" The "young man in the office" looked at him, and thinking he saw [illegible] in the eyes that the bummer did mean mischief, he concluded the best thing he could do was to give him a half dollar to appease the [illegible] spirit with which he thought he was confronted. Bummer took the half dollar without a tear or a sigh, and walked away with majestic and measured tread. The "young man in the office" and the merchant standing then at the front door, had the satisfaction of seeing the bummer of the thirsty soul march up street just [illegible] and go into a saloon, where the half dollar went to pay for whisky straight, and the whisky straight went down the parched throat of the [illegible] owner of the thirsty soul. The "young man in the office" thinks he made a bad investment of a fifty cent piece.

THE "DEMOCRATIC ERA."—Messrs. U. E. Hicks & S. W. Raveley have just issued a prospectus for the Democratic Era, a weekly newspaper to be published at East Portland, commencing on or about the 21st of April. The [illegible] informs us that the Era is to be "devoted to the discussion of political questions, the [illegible] of sound and correct principles, the growth and prosperity of the whole country, and the local [illegible] of East Portland." It proposes to promote "the universal harmony and party unity throughout the State." It goes for all the railroads, built or to be built, and internal [illegible] generally; promises to be a good paper for the farmers or any other man, etc., etc., after the universal style of the prospectus. We have no doubt that many of these will be fulfilled, as both the proprietors are men of newspaper experience.

QUIET RESTORED.—The "Salem [illegible]" who came down on Tuesday, and who kept things going here pretty lively for a day or two, have gone home, and quietness and serene peace once more prevail throughout the city "pro tem." We are glad they are gone, for now some of our young people can get into the Dollar Store; [illegible] need no longer go dodging around [illegible] of conspirators and horse [illegible] hotel lodgers can go to bed without [illegible] of being roused at unseasonable hours and [illegible] boat. There were about a [illegible] more or less (one of them, at least, [illegible]), but the plunder they took away from [illegible] toy shops, etc., would have [illegible] in a stranger's mind that a [illegible] foragers was about to march.

[illegible]—Among the passengers by the [illegible] a large number of immigrants [illegible] their household gods out here [illegible] up in Oregon. Of the number there [illegible] number that came out through the [illegible] of Mr. Martin Gillihan, who has been making a visit to the East for his health, and while there interested himself in making the people acquainted with Oregon.

[illegible] PLACES OF AMUSEMENT.—EDITOR [illegible]: I have frequently observed, in [illegible] of amusement in this city, that there were no persons to show ladies with [illegible] to seats. Besides this, there is no [illegible] to quell a disturbance or unnecessary noise. There are two things that should not be [illegible] by those managing performances at [illegible], and I hope to see the evil corrected. The ladies, I am sure, will thank those who take the matter in hand. G.

[illegible] BOREALIS.—A very brilliant aurora [illegible] about 4 o'clock yesterday morning [illegible]. The spectators who were out at that hour were rewarded for their early rising or [illegible] to bed, as the case may be, by seeing [illegible] singularly large and brilliant meteor that shot across the heavens from north to south. [illegible] the descriptions we get of it, it had a tail much longer than the historic appendage of [illegible].

[illegible] OF MINING LANDS.—Messrs. A. P. [illegible] McCoy, Geo. L. Curry, R. J. Ladd [illegible] have formed an incorporation for the [illegible] developing and locating mineral lands [illegible]. They propose to send parties of [illegible] into the field as early as the season [illegible], and to publish reports from time to time [illegible] results of their operations.

FOR KALAMA.—The steamer Idaho [illegible] donkey engines and landed them [illegible] to be used for pile-driving on the [illegible] Railroad. We see that one of the [illegible] mentions the arrival at Kalama of [illegible] "five engines"—a slight error. The Idaho landed at Kalama a total of 60 tons of freight.

[illegible] MASONRY.—Quite a number of [illegible] of Salem have, within the last day or [illegible], the thirty-third degree in Masonry at [illegible] city, and they intend to organize a Lodge in [illegible] at Salem. They will be here again [illegible] a month for the purpose of having their officers [illegible].

SCHOOL MEETINGS.—In view of the fact that the annual school meetings are near at hand, [illegible] the communication from the Superintendent, which appears elsewhere, to a careful perusal. It contains several suggestions which may well be taken into serious consideration.

[illegible] NOTICE.—Mr. A. D. Shelby says he has come here to stay, and that he is bound to fight it out on this line, notwithstanding the invasion of the city by "dollar stores." We guess he means it, too. Look at his advertisement of articles for sale at "99 cents."

ERROR AND CORRECTION.—In an item of yesterday morning, the Real Estate Gazette, published by Russell, Ferry & Woodward, was attributed, by an inadvertence, to "Russell & Upton." This was a rather singular mixing of firms, for which we tender our apology.

PERSONAL.—We see by one of the California papers that Mr. H. Bloomfield, at one time Superintendent of the Oregon Iron Works in this city, is at Woodland, on the Sacramento river, putting up gas works.

HELD TO ANSWER FOR ARSON.—A colored female, the wife of I. Graham, lately married, was held to answer in the Police Court, on Wednesday, upon the charge of attempting to commit arson.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES.—There are again [illegible] a day on the Oregon & California Railroad from Portland to Albany, and two steamers a day between Portland and Oregon City.

GONE EAST.—Col. W. W. Chapman will start east by the steamer to-morrow. He will return [illegible], in time to meet his engagements in the [illegible].

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The next term of all the [illegible] will begin next Monday.

SCHOOL MEETINGS.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS TO BE CONSIDERED AT THE APPROACHING ANNUAL MEETINGS.

The law requires that "organized districts shall hold annual meetings on the first Monday of April and shall elect one Director every year, for each district, who shall qualify, and shall hold his office for three years; and also a District Clerk, who shall qualify, and give bond to the Directors for such sum as they may require, as an additional pledge for the faithful performance of his duties, and who shall hold his office for one year, or until his successor is elected and qualified." Directors can authorize clerks to call meetings, but it is not often done.

The chief school meeting of the year is the annual meeting on the first Monday in April. At that time the reports of the previous year are made, and plans proposed for the new year. It devolves of course upon the Board of Directors to present the facts respecting the schools and the property of the district, and make recommendations, if they have any, under the general law; that "Directors shall perform such other duties, not provided for in this act, as the wants of their district may from time to time demand."

The people have a right to expect of school directors a vigilant attention to the interests of the public schools. Men should be elected who will give that attention. Clerks also should be chosen who will faithfully serve in their office. They keep the records, collect the taxes, make the annual reports to the County Superintendents, draw the funds and disburse them as audited and ordered by the directors, not as attorneys for their several districts, and not as Secretaries of all meetings. The law aims evidently to make the system efficient. The annual meeting is the place to show whether it is so conducted, and to provide that it may be continued efficient.

Time should be taken, especially by the district officers, to prepare for this meeting on the first Monday in April. Time should be taken on that day for hearing and deliberating upon the reports presented and measures proposed. Our public schools vitally affect our social and civil condition as a people. The Monday evening usually given to the school meeting in Portland is hardly enough for the full discussion and wise action upon the subjects proposed. Would it not be better to have an afternoon session and an adjourned meeting for the evening? A year ago it was proposed to buy and prepare a block for a new public school in the western part of the city. The subject was briefly discussed and decided in the negative, and it has proved to the loss of the city. Whether more consideration would have produced an opposite decision cannot be told; but it is certain that important questions require time and all the light that can be thrown upon them. The tax proposed was reduced in amount much to our injury, as money has been borrowed and interest paid to keep our present school in operation until other funds came in. The same thing will have to be repeated, especially if we mean to provide schools for the eight hundred children now in Portland, who have no provision for their instruction in either the existing public or private schools. And here it is proper to remark that the carefully matured plans of directors deserve to be well considered, and they ought not to be hastily set aside.

But it may be objected that our deficiency of funds this last year was due to excessive expenses during a previous year; that the annual report of the Treasurer showed unusual payments, even without vouchers. It has been reported on the street that the claims were not audited, and that money was drawn without legal orders, and thus several hundred dollars were misspent and the treasury depleted. Whether this was so or not demands an inquiry, and report by those who hold the documents. But if directors deem it necessary to expend a little more than common to furnish schools with maps, charts and apparatus, or to furnish themselves with information by books or by visits of one or more to other cities to learn the better methods of conducting their own schools, or to perfect the plan of a school building; or if they occasionally hire a carriage, instead of walking two or three miles to visit their own schools (being men of dignity and gravity), why should it be thought strange, or be spoken against, and not rather a sign of more enlarged views of school interests? Certainly such action is worthy to be reported fully at the annual meetings, that the people may imbibe the spirit and give it their sanction.

There are certainly grave questions to be decided respecting grade schools and suitable buildings for them. It is wise to profit by the experience of other cities that have the best public schools, rather than to build what we think will do, and soon find, as we have in Portland, our buildings defective, and in some respects, practically a loss. Better for the Board to spend a little money for information than to act blindly. Better also for every district to raise a little more tax and provide a suitable building or buildings for the not distant future, than to come to that period with buildings wholly unsuited to the wants of the district. Had the East Portland District three years ago put up a larger frame of a two story building, as advised by some friends, and finished one room, they would now be prepared to extend their grades and meet the demands of their growing city at small expense. Instead of this, they have two small buildings on hand which can accommodate only about 90 of their 265 pupils. Let the Board be authorized now to erect a two story center building, with high ceilings, making wings of the present buildings, and the defects of provisions for pupils will be partially removed. If Districts Nos. 2, 4 and 5 provide for grade schools, as it is hoped they will, the experience of other districts should teach them to make liberal provision for buildings.

Such questions, of course, bear upon that of annual district taxes for schools, to add to the funds distributed, and prolong the schools from one to two, and from two to three quarters each. Twelve districts voted taxes last year. The people seem more willing year by year, to do this. They find that good schools can be provided and continued at home cheaper than to send their children abroad. They know that the country is a better place for their children than the city, and that home is better for them than a boarding house, and far more economical.

It is easy to see that a good grade school continued six or nine months in every district that is large enough, gives worth, attractiveness and dignity to that district, and adds far more to the value of property than its cost. Besides such thoughtful and enterprising plans, presented and adopted at the annual school meeting, will react upon directors and clerks and other officials to make them more efficient and faithful to their trusts, more careful in securing and disbursing school funds, and will impress a public sentiment of the value and dignity of our public school system, which it has received and retained in other States of the Union, and which will not allow its character or its friends to be sacrificed to the prejudices of its foes or the greed of the avaricious.

G. H. ATKINSON,
Sept. Public Schools Multnomah county.

CIRCULARS IN GERMAN.—Mr. Wm. Davidson has laid upon our table one of his late circulars, with map of Oregon attached, which he has had printed in the German language, for circulation in the Eastern States and in Germany, with a view to stimulate immigration or to attract the attention of those who are already in search of new homes, to our State. The circular contains a concise statement of facts in regard to Oregon, which will no doubt have their proper effect upon the people among whom it shall be distributed.

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.—The Herald reporter learns that "efforts are being made to establish a Literary Society in this city. The matter is in the hands of gentlemen who are likely to push the society ahead. We trust the day is not far distant when Portland will not only be able to support a Literary Society, but also to publish a literary and scientific journal, that will not be inferior to the Overland Monthly, published in San Francisco.

THE MINSTRELS.—Messrs. Coghil, Cooper and and the other members of the Nickerson Troupe who remained during Nickerson's absence, went to Salem yesterday morning to give two performances—last night and to night—at Reed's Opera House.

MELODEON.—We understand that the Front Street Melodeon will be opened early next week, Mr. Nickerson, Manager, and a corps of performers being expected to arrive by the steamer Pacific.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Bulletin reporter says Jo. McBrien, the supposed suicide has been seen at Oregon City.

The bark Atlantia has commenced receiving cargo at the steamship dock, for San Francisco.

We had an April day yesterday, with an air that was "barmy" between showers.

Of $51,000 city taxes levied for the current year, only $3,000 or a little over has been paid.

There will be recruiting for the Emmet Guard this evening at the armory of the company.

A number of the sailors belonging to the Prince of Wales are reported to have left for the interior.

A business meeting of the members of the Washingtonian Debating Society will be held at their rooms, at 7 o'clock this evening.

The real estate agents have been transacting, within the last few days, a large amount of business.

AMUSEMENTS.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.—The concert given at the Taylor street M. E. Church, last evening, in aid of the Sabbath School, was very well attended, and all present seemed highly pleased with the entertainments offered. It is impossible for us to particularize where all did so well. Quite a number of the recitations and songs were heartily cheered by the audience. Miss Smith and Miss Anderson presided at the organ, and evinced exquisite taste in their playing. The duet by Misses Anderson and Lillie, the quartette, "Not a bit of it, Harry," by Messrs. Crawford, Morgan, Bunting and Noon; song, "When he Left Me," by Mrs. Crawford, and "I am Dreaming," by Miss Anderson, Mrs. Aiken, Mr. Crawford, and Mr. Noon, were all very entertainingly and pleasingly rendered. Among the smaller performers, we particularly remarked the singing of Sarah Douglas, Lillie Buchtel and Lizzie Anderson, which was certainly excellent for Misses of their age, and they will all make splendid singers if proper attention is given to their musical education. Among the recitations, the "Price of Peace," by Miss Mattie Grooms, indicated a good degree of taste and a very excellent idea of elocution. Master Eddie Northrup brought down the house by his declamation and singing.

Taken altogether, the concert was successful, and if it should be repeated, of which there is some probability, all who can should go, and none who do attend will regret their time or money, if the same entertainment be presented as last night.

ORO FINO THEATER.—No better entertainment has been offered at this place of amusement, for a long time, than that of last evening, "Fanchon, the Cricket," being the play. Many of our theater goers have seen Mrs. Bates play Fanchon, but none of them ever saw her play the character better than she did last evening. The general verdict was "first-rate." Mr. Bates' Landry was natural and artistic. Mr. Vinson personated Father Barbeaud as if he had been the real father of the boys and felt every word of his part. Miss Annie Pixley, a little acting as Madelon, in the petulant scenes, that was quite good. Miss Ingles got two or three rounds of deserved applause as Old Fadet. If she would make up the lower part of her face a little older and stoop a little more like decrepitude, she would do the character very creditably, indeed. Miss Cummings' personation of Didier was not so good as are most of her boy personations. The festival dance was charmingly done by all engaged in it. The same play will be repeated to-night.

Trust what Time has Sanctioned.

The maxim that the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport is worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ailments is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world, innumerable preparations intended to compete with it, have gone up like rockets and came down the extinguished sticks. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagle's flight. Its introduction produced a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to cajole the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers"

How Long It Vos.—A Chicago correspondent sends us the following: During a recent trial before Justice Dougherty, it was thought important by counsel to determine the length of time that certain "two quarters of beef, two hogs and one sheep" remained in an express wagon in front of plaintiff's store before they were taken away by the defendant. The witness under examination was a German, whose knowledge of the English language was very limited; but he testified in a very plain, straight forward way, to having weighed the meat, and to having afterwards carried it into the aforesaid wagon.

Then the following ensued:

Counselor Enos—State to the jury how long it was after you took the meat from the store and put it into the wagon before it was taken away.

Witness—Now I shoost cand dell dat. I dinks bout twelve feet. I not say nearer as dat.

Counsel—You don't understand me. How long [illegible] from the time the meat left the store [illegible] put into the wagon before it was [illegible] by the defendant?

[illegible] know not what you ax dat [illegible] he vas back up mit der sidewalk [illegible] shoost so long as it vas. You [illegible] sidewalk vas. Den feet? [illegible] Den I dell you how long it vas.

Counsel—I don't want to find out how wide the sidewalk was; but I want to know (speaking very slowly) how—long—this—meat—was—in—the—wagon—before—it—was—taken—away?

Witness. Oh, dat! Vell, now, I not sold any meat so. I all time weigh him, never measure meat, not yet. But I dinks 'bout [illegible] feet. (Here the spectators and his Honor and the jury smiled audibly.) I know not, [illegible] men, how is dis. I dell you all I can, so good as I know."

Counsel—Look here. I want to know how [illegible] before the meat was taken away [illegible] into the wagon.

[illegible] (looking very knowingly at counsel) [illegible] try and get me in a scrape. [illegible] shoost so long in der wagon as [illegible] der shop. Dat's all I told you. Dat [illegible] at. He don't got no longer [illegible] thousand year not mooch.

Counsel. That will do.—Harper's Magazine.

[illegible] and Modern Engineering.—The [illegible] covers a space 700 feet [illegible] and contains 5,500,000 tons of stone, composed of the soft limestone from the [illegible] side of the Nile, but some of the [illegible] were brought one hundred miles. The [illegible] were hauled by oxen, on [illegible] and the remains of rude wooden ways or [illegible], still exist. The big ones were drawn [illegible] It required 1,000 [illegible] block [illegible] and they worked [illegible] music. One party [illegible] years in transporting a 700 ton [illegible] the hundred miles. The builders had no scaffolding, but as fast as they raised the structure, they piled up [illegible] making an incline plane, up which they dragged enormous blocks of stone. When it [illegible] raise their scaffolding, they piled up more dirt and so kept on until the pyramid was completed, 450 feet high, and [illegible] the dirt scaffolding was cleared away. The vast embankment must have required [illegible] tons of earth. The whole work [illegible] 300,000 men thirty years, and at the [illegible] labor in that country, would have cost $[illegible],000.

A modern engineer could construct a similar work for about $[illegible] 000,000, and with a third of the men. He would quarry the stone by steam-drill, load them with steam cranes and transport them by steamboats and locomotives. Instead of the fifty million tons of embankment, costing [illegible] dollars, he would employ numerous hoisting machines, with a score [illegible], and would do [illegible] the band of the masons as fast as they would lay them.

A Queer Mania.—There has lately been [illegible] at Fraserburg, Scotland, a man of over three score who during the last twenty or thirty years of his life displayed such a proclivity for witnessing [illegible] building and funerals as amounted almost to a mania. Whatever engaged [illegible] the moment, he was never known to miss the chance of visiting the shop of an undertaker when he knew a coffin was on hand, and it was no unusual thing for him to sit for hours inspecting the progress of the article. Funerals of individuals of note had special charms for him, and wherever in the district for miles round, he learned that one was to take place, he was certain to be present in the churchyard to see the coffin lowered into the grave. To such [illegible] extent had his admiration for 'covered' coffins worked upon his fancy that, being a poor man, he deprived himself many a day of the ordinary necessaries of life to lay away a shilling to procure a 'covered' coffin for himself, and on his death-bed he directed attention to a chest in which he had hidden 'five gold sovereigns' to pay for 'a grand burial.' And such he had, for the numbers attending it were so numerous that it would have been, as one in the procession remarked, 'as marrow to Joseph's old bones had he been looking [illegible] to behold it.'

[illegible] review for 1870 of the agricultural and commercial transactions of the Hawaiian kingdom published by the Commercial Advertiser [illegible] the exportation of the sugar has increased from [illegible]03 pounds in 1861, to 18,[illegible] pounds in 1870, and that the development of this important industry has been steadily progressive. The total value [illegible] domestic [illegible] during the past year was $[illegible] 312 being a decrease of $288,866 from [illegible] of the year [illegible]69. This is accounted for by the increase [illegible] United States Consular rates [illegible] which are much below the [illegible] during the preceding year. The total value of imports amounted to $[illegible] which is a decrease of $109,840 as compared with 1869. It is a notable fact [illegible] imported more goods than [illegible] British countries, China and Mexico and less from the United States, Japan [illegible] possessions.

"[illegible] been a thinking," said Little Froby [illegible] this here woman suffrage business." [illegible] said he, "that a now—Olive [illegible], for instance, should be made President of this great and glorious country, bequeathed to me by noble sires and all that, she'd be President Logan, wouldn't she?" We bowed. Well, now [illegible] she was to marry, say, a man by the name of—of—Perkins, f'r instance would she then be President Logan, or President Perkins?"

A girl in Wisconsin, whose lover had married another woman engaged herself as a servant to that lover's wife. She marked out [illegible] and won, for three months after [illegible] the wife, on returning from a visit [illegible] father's house found that the 'servant' [illegible] carried off the husband and all the household furniture—value, husband not counted, [illegible]

[illegible] cloth can be made water-proof by [illegible] process. In a bucket of soft [illegible] a half pound of sugar of lead and a half pound of powdered alum; stir this at intervals until it becomes clear, then pour it off into another bucket and put the garment therein, and let it be in for twenty-four hours, and then hang it up to dry without wringing it.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Portland, Thursday, March 23 1871.

Gold at New York at latest quotations 110⅞, a decline from the previous report.

Currency at this city is 90½c buying and 91½ selling.

Exchange on San Francisco—coin, ½ of 1 per cent; currency ½ per cent.

Exchange on New York, 1½ per cent, telegraph transfers 1¾ per cent.

Rates of interest unchanged, at 1@1½@2 per cent.

The money market, though not stringent, is not quite as easy as is desirable. Those who have a large aggregate of goods credited to the interior dealers are the only persons affected. The excessively inclement weather of the past month, together with the high waters and floods has operated seriously against not only the transportation of produce, but the transmission of funds. Merchants who are ready to pay are, many of them, waiting for better weather to visit the city. It is believed that as soon as easy navigation and land travel are restored payments will be more prompt and purchases heavier, and that business will generally be placed upon an easy and prosperous footing.

We find nothing new in the merchandise market. There is a pretty fair trade in most all lines, considering the difficulties that have lately existed in the way of transportation. Hardware dealers report a larger trade than formerly at this season of the year. The spring movement in Dry Goods has hardly begun yet.

Wheat holds firm at our quotations of last week. Buyers are not willing however, to advance the rates. But little is being offered upon the market. Flour is unchanged. Bacon is in good demand, owing to temporary scarcity below. Oregon Sugar-cured Hams are selling in San Francisco at 3@3½c over the California, and within a half cent of Chicago brands.

To the 17th inst the receipts of Oregon produce at San Francisco were given by the Commercial Herald as follows: "Flour, qr sks, 183 630, Wheat, sks, 5 789, Oats, sks, 25 Salmon, bbls, 642, hf bbls, 510, pkgs 105, Bacon, pkgs, 543, Beef, bbls, 25, Hams, pkgs, 147 Butter, pkgs, 112, Lard, pkgs, 215, Pork, bbls 550, Dried Apples pkgs, 350."

The Bulletin of the 17th says "After loading the four ships now under engagement, it is estimated that there will be 30,000 tons of Wheat left in the State, and that 20,000 tons of this quantity can be spared for export."

The same paper says of Flour that the heavy arrivals from Oregon have exercised a depressing influence upon the market. The telegraphic dispatches of a later date, however, report an advance in Wheat and a better feeling in the Flour market.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

Salem Oregon, October 22, 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminous with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.
